About each requirement

Kooyora clearance for service: Kooyoora is an independent organisation that clears volunteers in the Anglican church to serve in children and youth ministries. This process involves reference checks and a police check. This is a requirement for all volunteers who work with children in the Diocese as part of our commitment to safe ministry.

WWCC: This is another requirement for all who volunteers that work with children, that they maintain an up to-date working with children check. For teachers there is the option to use your VIT registration in place of a WWCC

Police check: Police checks can be obtained for free through the St Alf's CrimCheck account. These checks are valid for 5 years before they need to be renewed. Youth aged under 14 do not need a police check. If you have lived overseas for more than 1 year in the past 10 years then you will need to get an international police check.

Safe Ministry training: This is compulsory training for all volunteers. Module 1 is for every volunteer. Module 2 is for those that work with children. Module 3 is for ministry leaders only. This training needs to be refreshed every 3 years.

Teen Helper training: This is the equivalent of Safe Ministry training but for those that are under 18. It is run by Louisa or Naomi at church from time to time.

ADOM Child safety and wellbeing code of conduct: This is a code of conduct made by the Anglican Diocese of Melbourne for adults who volunteer with children. This is in addition to our St Alf's volunteer code of conduct.

St Alfreds Volunteer agreement form: The St Alfs Volunteer agreement form tells us a little bit about the volunteer and their faith. It also acknowledged that they agree to comply with the St Alf's volunteer code of conduct and uphold the beliefs and values of St Alfred's.
